

Industrial clean facilities

Industrial CR

Clean rooms are required to be best designed suited for their purposes including the installation of attachments. Parameters include basic conditions such as temperature and humidity control, pressure and special conditions such as vibration prevention and anti-static measures. We start experimental designing only after realizing the total needs of our customers. To satisfy your needs, we use a clean engineering system to clearly specify conditions at installation.